NEW BUILDING PROGRESS

Guadalupe County Children's Advocacy Center

Friends of Courage!

July 24, 2018—Front of building at 265 Wetz

We are so excited to show you the progress on our new building! As you can see, the exterior paint and brick is complete and we think it looks great! We chose blue for the exterior color so the large building will be welcoming and inviting, but also because it is the color of child abuse awareness and prevention. The drywall installation is nearly complete, and the interior paint and flooring will follow. The roof will be arriving very soon, as will the curbs, pavement, and landscaping. We are working with Keepers Interiors to decide on some of the furniture, have created wish lists for some items, and will be choosing appliances and other finishing touches!

July 18, 2018— Back of building

July 24, 2018—Training room on second floor

Due to rain and other unforeseen delays, the construction timeline has been pushed slightly. We now expect construction to be completed near the end of August and hope to begin providing services at the new building by October 1st. Even with this delay, GCCAC staff and team members are extremely excited to be moving into the new building soon to better serve clients!

We would like to give a huge thank you to all the companies who have donated labor and materials, all of the individuals working hard out in the summer heat for us, and all of the community donors who have made this project possible!

Please like us on Facebook if you would like to see updates on the new building more often!

Wish lists

We have created two wish lists (one with Target and one with Amazon) of some of the items that we would like for our new building. These are items that will help children and families feel more welcome and comfortable while they are at our center and allow us to provide them with direct services. We would love it if you could help us get the new building ready! We will continue to add new items as we get closer to moving in! Thank you for your help!
